HISTORY

The charm of antique tiles, reflecting historical lineage from the reign of king Rama the 5th with artistic crafts and imaginings portraying intricate adornment of design patterns on smooth subtle surfaces, with these delicate designs that possess richness of heritage, the designs are endowed as classics that will withstand time and continue to accumulate quality through the centuries.

During the reign of king Rama the 5th, tiles were made of cement, which has limited versatility in maintenance due to their tendency to stain making it popular among a small group. Hitherto 2016, The Three Touch development of the antique pattern tiles with cutting edge innovations eliminated the cement limitations and created the superior granito tiles that are easier to keep clean, and can virtually be applied to all flooring and walls. The Three Touch's innovation has enabled us to be the first to introduce the Blezz brand. The antique patterns of the Blezz brand tiles are customizable to meet any specifications of in pattern mix and color, for any lifestyle, and character, the possibilities are limitless. Making the Blezz brand of antique tiles a well-known name in the market, across industries, and among various development projects.

With the aesthetic quality of antique tiles fused with the freedom of design, our clientele's appreciation of our products resulted in many photos of customized antique pattern tiles being sent to The Three Touch. Seeing the opportunity to share the many beautiful design works in hopes to inspire ideas for home improvement, The Three Touch created a Facebook page in 2012 enabling us to share many designs of the Blezz antique pattern tiles and receive an abundance of comments, not to mention a total of over 260,000 likes in 2016.

The charm of antique tiles gleaming with elegant patterns is a gift from the arts, from the human imagination imprinted upon smooth tiles creating intricacy, along with stories of origin giving lineage to the patterns, bestowing a mystic intrigue to our quality antique pattern tiles.

As the ages ample through time, the antique pattern tiles has evolved from being cement base to being made of granito. This innovation was pioneered by The Three Touch's Blezz brand which infused modern production technology in changing the main material from cement to granito, making the antique pattern granito tiles an increasingly popular choice in the market for designers and architects.

BLEZZ SIGNATURE

ANTIQUE PATTERNS TILE:MIXED ANTIQUE 001

came from a trip to London during autumn, from a desire to tour the Buckingham palace. The rain cooled and moistened the air most nicely.

A fter the rain, with a black umbrella in hand, the roads were wet with rain at dawn and maple leaves, painting them with a brilliant maple orange, creating a much needed relief from a long accumulation of stress. The antique pattern tile: Mixed Antique Tile 001 was born from this experience.

ANTIQUE PATTERNS TILE:MIXED ANTIQUE 002

was inspired by the numerous people on this planet and their diverse fortunes, the fortunate whose lives flow without obstacles, and those whose success were built on failures.

The design was thus created to remind the virtue ofperseverance, a momento to overcoming the obstacles and never succumbing to them.

is the accumulation of experience on the diverse feelings of people all encapsulated within a person. There are many emotions one will encounter, both positive and negative. A person had said: “If one day there is a person who is sad, who is suffering, be like the evening sun and offer your help, the world will become a much better place.” This design represents the humanity in a world where people have feelings, to convey a better world through universal friendship.

was incepted from the ambience of a tropical waterfall, with lush green bushes enveloping the scene, it was inspired from the flora that brims from mists. This tile pattern was designed to emit freshness and relaxation, like a flower glistening with dews, at all times in the home.
